Club publicity officer Dianna Baillie said the club was anticipating one of their best years yet.

“We are so lucky to have so many beautiful gardens in our region, and this is a rare opportunity for the public to see them,” she said.

“We encourage the community to not only come along and see the diverse range of garden styles we have included this year, but to ask questions and get ideas for their own home gardens.”

Open gardens include a flower-free green garden, English-styled cottage gardens and displays highlighting ferns and native eucalyptuses.

Funds raised from ticket entry will go towards the Mitchell Conservatorium, the 2BS Lions Christmas Miracle Appeal, Bathurst Community Transport Radiation Bus, three rural fire service units, Lifeline and headspace.

Each garden will have a fairy dell hidden somewhere in its foliage for visitors to find, to tie in with this year’s theme of ‘enchanted garden’.

There will also be live music at the various properties throughout the weekend.
